The Pyrénées-Orientales is an exceptional destination for golfers looking for a sunny course to play on. In a preserved environment between the Mediterranean and the Pyrenees, avid golfers can expect a very enjoyable experience, whatever their age.

There is a wide range of possibilities on offer, whether you are looking for an introductory session or to improve your skills on the seaside driving ranges, for a more traditional game of golf, with great views, golf in the mountains or you could opt for the "golf pass".

Saint-Cyprien Golf Course : Créé en 1976, situé à 15 km de Perpignan, en bord de mer et ouvert toute l'année, il offre 200 hectares de nature, associant résidence hôtelière, restaurants, activités de loisirs, cours individuels et collectifs, stages... Practice de 50 postes dont 30 couverts, bunkers d'entraînement, putting et pitching greens, carte verte... Golf 18 trous, par 73 - 6 480 m et Golf 9 trous, par 35 - 2 724 m. Les deux parcours dessinés par les architectes Ben Wright et Barry Tomlinson ont la particularité d'offrir une vue sur les étangs et la montagne d'un côté et une vue sur la forêt de l'autre côté.

Domaine de Falgos Golf Course : This golf course is at an altitude of 1,100 m, in Haut-Vallespir near the Spanish border. It is open all year round and covers 650 hectares in a lush green setting, with a 3* hotel, Residence, Restaurant, Spa, meeting rooms, private and group lessons and courses. There's a driving range with 18 bays, 11 of them sheltered, training bunkers, pitching and putting greens. 18-hole golf course, par 70 - 5,047 m. Alain Dehaye designed this hilly and technical course, in a one-of-a-kind environment.

Font-Romeu Golf Course Surrounded by an exceptional mountain view, at an altitude of 1,800m, at the renowned weather station of Cerdanya, this course is the chosen location for professional golfers, as it is a naturally hilly course bordered by pine trees, with various challenges to face. 9-hole golf course, par 34 - 2,348 m. Driving range with 30 bays, 10 of which are sheltered, training bunkers, pitching and putting greens. Private and group lessons, courses

Amélie-les-Bains Golf Course : Small 7-hole golf course, par 21 - 994 m long, accessible for all levels of players in an exceptional setting at the foot of Mount Canigou. Driving range and putting green, private and group lessons, children's golf lessons on Wednesday afternoons, introductory sessions and sessions to improve your skills, annual membership is compulsory.

Montescot, Golf Course is 10 minutes south of Perpignan. It is a 9-hole golf course, par 36 - 3,027 m long and the course is 3,000 m long. It is slightly hilly with an exceptional panoramic view of Mount Canigou, the Albera mountains, Fort Saint-Elme overlooking Collioure, Cap béar, the 13th-century cathedral in Elne and the village and castle of Corneilla del Vercol.
